

Victorian Christmas- Home Learning 06.12.18

As we come to the end of our Victorian topic, we thought it would be the perfect time to find out how Victorian's celebrated at this time of year. Your job is to research Victorian Christmas customs. You'll be surprised at how many of the things some families do today, started during this period. You may present your findings with illustrations, make sure you include some writing to explain what you have found out.
